Key Product/Service Descriptions:

Black & White Document Production - There are various categories of black-and-white document production. These charges are associated with the processing of black-and-white documents or images provided by the trial team for use with the presentation system. Our document production process includes a complete inventory and document review, establishing a standard document ID reference, disassembly and preparation of documents for imaging, imaging of documents, correction of image orientation, de-skewing images, and final quality-control inspection prior to client delivery. Certain categories of black-and-white document production include printing images as bar-coded pages, proofing page for page against originals or index, logical organization of all materials in trial binders, and creating custom covers and spines for notebooks (consumables are billed separately).

Audio/Video Synchronization - The synchronization process enables the trial team to display specific sections of video and audio with or without the corresponding transcript. This tool allows the review of important testimony prior to display during trial, and it allows the ability to create clips "on the fly" in the courtroom.

Charges associated with this service include compiling inventory of all video/audio and transcripts received, reviewing all pre-digitized video/audio to assess quality prior to synchronization, formatting transcripts for synchronization, digitizing audio/video (if necessary), coding the synchronized file for playback, creation of required computer files, and final quality control.

Video Sync QC - If your video has already been synchronized by a court reporter or other provider, we will quality control the deposition(s) to ensure quality and accuracy and will confirm there are no additional issues such as single-channel audio.

Audio/Video Sync Clip Creation - Trial teams often send designations to TrialGraphix for which they want clips to be created in advance. Our technicians perform this task in our facilities and transfer the data to the trial team's presentation system for retrieval.

A monthly case fee is applied if an Ontrack Prepreview case is active for the month.

A monthly fee is applied for each transcript hosted in Ontrack Prepreview.

A monthly fee is applied for each transcript's associated video synchronization hosted in Ontrack Prepreview.

Computer Time - This encompasses time spent by TrialGraphix technicians on tasks that extend beyond standard production work. Such tasks include (but are not limited to) conversion of black-and-white images that are provided to us in formats other than single-page tiffs, manipulation of load files that do not meet TrialGraphix specifications, image branding, exhibit stamping, creating PDFs, and creating custom indexes or load files.

Database Administration - The most critical aspect of a multimedia presentation is the creation and maintenance of the database. We design the structure of your database to meet your project specifications. As materials are generated in the production process, they must be quality-controlled and entered into the database. To add information to the database, the database administrator writes indexes, creates load files, catalogues information, and updates description fields for retrieval.

Data Archive - Upon completion of your project, all data (documents, video, and graphics) are archived by TrialGraphix and stored in a secure location. Should you require access to this material for future filings or related matters, the data will be restored. The archive fee is based on the total volume of data for the project.

PROJECT CONSULTATION

Trial Logistics Project Management	October 2010	725.00
Project Consultation	October 2010	750.00
Total - Project Consultation		1,475.00

Key Product/Service Descriptions:

Project Consultation - The project consultation team oversees all components of your project. The Project consultant leads this team by performing tasks such as daily communication with trial team members to discuss production needs and deadlines; consultation with the trial team regarding the most effective and cost-efficient ways to present case materials; correspondence with the trial team, opposing counsel and court personnel regarding courtroom setup and audiovisual equipment needs; organizing and leading internal/interoffice meetings, teleconferences or video conferences regarding equipment, production, your database, and additional issues relating to your case; careful evaluation of the trial team's requirements prior to the start of the proceeding; and making recommendations regarding on-site support. The Project consultant also communicates regularly with the trial team and any on-site TrialGraphix staff to ensure that all needs are met throughout the proceeding. Project Consultation charges include time for TrialGraphix staff members who support the Project consultant through communication, planning and execution of all tasks related to the successful completion of the project. These staff members include (but are not limited to) logistic coordinators, project consultants, and systems specialists.
